Hopscotch 9th Edition:

A Journey Through a Dozen Years

At Hopscotch, we've always believed that a cocktail should be more than just something that tastes good. It should have a story behind it, something familiar, something that makes you stop and go, "eh, I know this."

For our 9th cocktail menu, we wanted to do something completely new. All 12 cocktails are brand-new creations, with flavours, ingredients and concepts we've never explored before. Some are playful, some nostalgic, some a bit ridiculous in the best way, but they all come back to the same thing — Singapore. This time, we looked at the things we grew up with, the stories our parents told us, the habits, sayings, old trades, late nights and superstitions that somehow feel very Singaporean — brought together across three distinct categories.

We also pushed ourselves further with the drinks. New flavour combinations, presentations, techniques and ways of bringing each story to life. Plenty of ideas sounded crazy at first, but that's always been part of Hopscotch — trying things, tweaking them and seeing how far we can take them.

This menu is our way of showing you what Hopscotch is today: still experimenting, still having fun, and still finding new ways to tell Singapore stories through cocktails. We hope you enjoy the 12 new drinks, and learn a little more about Singapore along the way.

With love,
The Hopscotch Team

Capitol

Set in one of Singapore's most iconic landmarks, Capitol has always been a place for celebration, performance and occasion. These cocktails carry that same sense of theatre — polished, festive and made for moments that feel a little more special.

Curtain Call, 28

Gin, Grapefruit Juice, Grapefruit Oleo Saccharum, Pamplemousse Rose, Earl Grey Cordial, Verjuice

Curtain call stands for the appearance of actors after their performance to acknowledge the audience's applause. This cocktail is made in appreciation and standing ovation to them as well as Capitol Theatre, having hosted both international and local stars since 1930s. Refreshing, unique, and certainly theatrical.

Winter Reunion, 25

EDIBLE COCKTAIL

Old Ginger, Scotch, Orange Blossom Honey, Citrus, Almond Pandan, Peanut & Black Sesame Sphere

A drink based on the classic "Penicillin" cocktail, The Winter Reunion incorporates a molecular twist on the traditional Chinese "Tang Yuan" – an important dessert found in many Chinese festivals which symbolises reunion, success, and family togetherness.

Good Drinks
Brighter Company

Lion City Tiki, 25

Rum Blend, Cocchi Americano, Orchid Cordial, Kumquat Jam, Sugarcane & Water Chestnut Juice, Fresh Citrus, Elemakule Tiki Bitters

A cocktail paying tribute to the Merlion, a mythical creature based on Singapore's founding. Legend has it that Sang Nila Utama, a 14th-century prince met with a vicious storm and eventually chanced upon an island where he encountered a lion: the good omen in which Singapore - Sanskrit for lion (singa) and city (pura) – was named.

The Homecoming, 27

White Rum, Snow Pear & Dates House Brew, Bird's Nest, Apple Chestnut, Peach Gum, Candy Floss

The iconic symbol of the love, commitment, and effort behind a happy home. For many of us, our first Bird's Nest was home-brewed specially by grandma for its nourishing benefits. We present a rendition of grandma's special "tonic" with an "accidental" splash of alcohol.

This is Singapore

These are the moments that make living here feel unmistakably Singaporean — studying late into the night, growing up with National Service, dating, eating and simply finding our place in the city. Familiar, personal and a little chaotic, just like home.

Ai Stead Mai, 28

Vodka, Lillet Blanc, Grapefruit Juice, Rose & Grape Cordial, Calpis, Mangosteen Juice, Aphrodite Bitters

A playful take on Singapore's dating culture, served in a sculptural vessel that captures the drama of making the first move. Finished with a flaming origami rose, this drink brings a little romance, courage and spectacle to the table.

Burning the Midnight Oil, 27

Gin, Campari, Pi Pa Gao Loquat Cordial, Cherry Brandy, Monkfruit Ratafia

For every Singaporean who has stayed up far too late studying for the next big test. Served in an old-school lantern with a quiz paper on the side, this drink captures the late nights, determination and eventual relief of finally making it through.

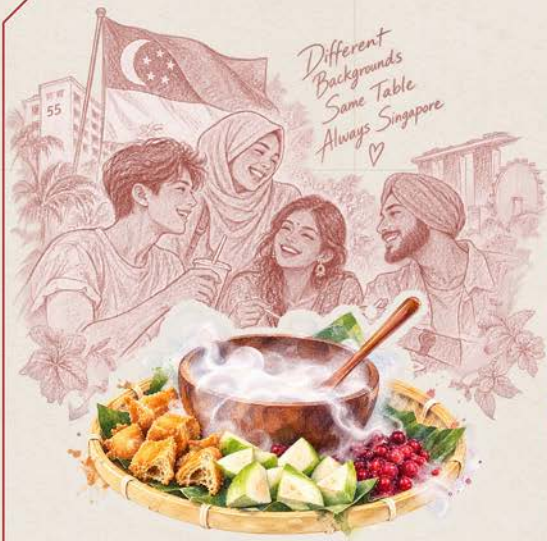
Our Everyday In A Glass



One United People, 26

EDIBLE COCKTAIL

Gin, Plum, Pink Guava, Ginger Flower, Lime, Tamarind, Rojak Sauce

Much like rojak itself, Singapore is made up of different parts coming together to create something greater. Served with familiar rojak accompaniments, this cocktail is a playful reflection of the diversity, flavours and people that make Singapore home.

Every Singaporean Son, 28

Brandy, Bourbon, Milo, Vanilla, Frangelico, Menthe Pastille, Himalayan Pink Salt

A nod to National Service and a rite of passage familiar to generations of Singaporean men. Presented as a lit "grenade" complete with a smoking fuse, this cocktail brings a little battlefield drama to the table — thankfully, this one is meant to be enjoyed.

People & Places

Singapore is shaped by the people who lived, worked and built their lives here, and by the places that hold those memories. These cocktails look back at familiar trades, neighbourhoods and ways of life that still feel deeply connected to home.

Another Man's Treasure, 27

Dark Rum, Ambarella, Sarsaparilla Root, Vanilla, Lemon Juice, Tamarind, Pink Salt, Soda

The familiar call of the karang guni man once echoed through neighbourhoods across Singapore. This cocktail celebrates a disappearing trade and the simple belief that one man's trash can always become another man's treasure.

Kelong, 24

Vodka, Calamansi, Perilla, Kwai Feh Lychee, Yellow Watermelon, Gula Melaka

Singapore's offshore kelongs once formed an important part of coastal life and fishing culture. Presented as a miniature sampan raised above misty waters, this cocktail recreates a disappearing piece of old Singapore through a little theatre at the table.

The Morning Call, 25

Honeysuckle Gin, Peach Blossom, St Germain, Bergamot, Lemon, Apricot Brandy, Peach Bitters

Once upon a time, mornings began with the sound of songbirds and enthusiasts gathering to admire them. Presented inside a traditional birdcage, this cocktail remembers a quieter pastime built around birdsong, conversation and community.

Red Hill Remembers, 24

Vodka, Soursop, Aperol, Fig Cordial, Cempedak, Aged Balsamic, Citrus, Rosella, Beetroot

The legend of Bukit Merah remains one of Singapore's most enduring folk tales. Set amongst mist-covered red hills, this cocktail brings the story back to life through the boy, the swordfish and the hill that was said to turn red.

Customs & Traditions

Some traditions stay with us because they are woven into how we gather, celebrate and spend time together. These cocktails revisit familiar customs, games, beliefs and rituals that have been passed down through generations and continue to feel part of everyday life.

EDIBLE COCKTAIL

Cherki, 28

Vodka, Orchid, Coconut Milk, Taro Ice Cream, Pandan, Palm Sugar

Once a favourite pastime in Peranakan households, Cherki brought people together over conversation, competition and community. Presented in an ornate traditional serving set, this cocktail brings a forgotten social ritual back to the table.

The Green Table, 25

Mezcal, Dried Longan & Pandan Cordial, Ginger, Nigori Sake, Citrus, Cheng Tng Brew

Mahjong tables have long been gathering places for family and friends. Served atop a miniature green table with a sugarcane stick and edible mahjong tile, this cocktail celebrates luck, strategy and the conversations that happen between every tile.

Old Stories New Pour

Lucky Numbers, 25

Rum Blend, Hawthorn Cordial, Mandarin Peel Shrub, Calamansi, Pomelo, Citrus, Soda

Singaporeans have always had a soft spot for lucky numbers. Served alongside a lion revealing four lucky digits, this cocktail plays on the colourful traditions of lion dance culture and our collective hope that the next number might just be the one.

Fate Is In Your Hands, 26

Roasted Pineapple Bourbon, Buddha's Hand Oleo Saccharum, Pomegranate Molasses, Ginseng Tincture

Palm reading has long fascinated those curious about what the future might hold. This cocktail leaves one question unanswered — is your fate written in your palm, or at the bottom of your drink? [Served with personalised palm reading]
